Those wishing to attend events at COCC who have special needs resulting from a physical disability should contact Gene Zinkgraf, 504/ADA coordinator, at least three days in advance of the event. He can be reached at 383-7775, or through the College's TT number, 383-7708.

Introduction

Central Oregon Community College, the oldest two-year college in Oregon, provides comprehensive college services to the residents of its 10,000-square-mile district.

COCC offers two-year associate degrees, transfer/lower division programs, career and technical education degrees and certificates, developmental courses, continuing education and community learning classes, industry-specific training programs, and business management assistance. Courses are delivered through the traditional classroom setting or online.

The College's main campus is located on the western edge of Bend, a city known for its natural beauty and its proximity to diverse recreational opportunities. Situated on the western slope of Awbrey Butte, the location affords spectacular views of the mountains from nearly every point on the 201-acre campus. The Redmond Campus, a satellite located 20 miles north on 25 acres near the Redmond Municipal Airport, offers a wide array of student services plus all of the courses necessary to earn an associates degree. In addition, it is the home of the Manufacturing and Applied Technology Center. In addition, COCC offers some courses and programs in other Central Oregon communities.

A branch of Oregon State University is located on the Bend campus in the 38,000-square-foot Cascades Hall that opened in fall 2002. Oregon State University and University of Oregon collaborate to offer more than 370 upper division, on-site courses in 20 different undergraduate degree options.

Board Members

A seven-member board of directors governs the College, with members of that board elected from geographic zones in its 10,000-square-mile District.

Board Mission, Vision and Goals

Mission

Central Oregon Community College will be a leader in regionally and globally responsive adult, lifelong, postsecondary education for Central Oregon.

Vision Statement

Because of COCC, Central Oregonians will...

- be a districtwide community that holds and promotes lifelong postsecondary education and ongoing professional growth and personal development for adults as values;
- be able to connect actively with other communities, the state, the nation and the world in order to attain both locally strong and globally responsible perspectives;
- view education as integral to a sense of well-being, security and responsibility; and
- look to COCC to lead the region in the achievement of these ends.

Ends Statements/Goals

Because of COCC, the community will...

- have an adult population with the proficiencies and learning skills necessary for lifelong employment at or above a family-wage level;
- have an adult population with academic achievements and learning skills necessary to successfully pursue education at and beyond the community college level;
- work collaboratively to achieve shared purposes;
- have wide-ranging opportunities to enhance learning, wellness, quality of life, and cultural appreciation;
- support diversity; and interact effectively with state, regional, national and global communities.

COCC President

Dr. James E. Middleton

Dr. James E. Middleton

Dr. James E. Middleton is in his fourth year as president of Central Oregon Community College.

Since coming to COCC, he has been working to forge new partnerships to strengthen the educational systems in the region, resulting in significant increases in the number of college courses available to high school students and the number of students taking advantage of these offerings.

He has also been actively involved in the COCC Foundation to broaden opportunity for students. The Foundation has increased its endowment to more than $10 million and has now embarked on a $3.5 million capital campaign to support the expansion of the College's culinary program.

Middleton served as president of the College of Marin from 1993 to 2003. After leaving Marin, he was a visiting scholar at the Community College Leadership Development Initiatives at Claremont Graduate University in California. Prior to moving to Marin, he spent 11 years at Pennsylvania College of Technology in Williamsport, first as the director of Integrated Studies for two years and then the dean and vice president of academic affairs for nine years.

COCC History

- 1949 COCC opens with four part-time faculty members conducting classes for 109 students during the evenings in the basement of Bend High School.
- 1954 On the fifth anniversary, the students recommend changing the name to Central Oregon College.
- 1955 College Foundation is formed.
- 1957 Don Pence is appointed the College's first president.
- 1962 Central Oregonians approve the 10,000-square-mile college district and later elect the first district board.
- 1962 The R.L. Coats family donates 140 acres on the west side of Awbrey Butte for the campus.
- 1964 Nearly 700 students and 35 full-time faculty members begin classes at the new campus.
- 1966 COCC is accredited and a new 16,000-square-foot library opens.
- 1967 After Dr. Pence resigns, Dr. Frederick Boyle is named president. The college becomes Central Oregon Community College.
- 1971 Ponderosa Hall, a vocational-technical center, and Mazama Gymnasium open.
- 1982 The Pinckney Center for the Arts, named for instructor and administrator, Orde Pinckney, is formally dedicated.
- 1984 The Small Business Development Center opens.

- 1990 The Central Oregon Consortium for Higher Education (COCHE) begins offering selected four-year degrees through Oregon colleges and universities on the COCC campus.
- 1990 After Dr. Boyle retires, Dr. Robert Barber is selected as the third president in the College's history
- 1994 The University Center opens, replacing COCHE.
- 1997 Redmond Campus opens.
- 1998 New 72,500-square-foot library opens. Original library converted to classrooms.
- 2001 The State Board of Higher Education selects Oregon State University to serve as the managing partner of the state's first branch campus.
Manufacturing and Technology Center opens at the Redmond Campus.
OSU-Cascades Campus opens.
- 2002 Cascades Hall opens, housing offices and classrooms of OSU-Cascades Campus.
- 2003 Budget cuts totalling $3 million (resulting from a 15 percent reduction of the state's community college budget) forced COCC to eliminate 35 positions, cut back programs and offerings, close college centers and raise tuition 25 percent over two years.
- 2004 Dr. James Middleton becomes the fourth president in the College's history.
- 2009 The Campus Center, including performance venue Wille Hall, opens in April.

Facilities

The 201-acre main campus in Bend includes 21 buildings, incorporating 414,000 square feet. The 25-acre Redmond Campus encompasses three buildings, incorporating 51,500 square feet, including the Manufacturing and Applied Technology Center. The 38,000-square-foot Cascades Hall on the Bend campus opened in fall 2002. A 30,000-square-foot Campus Center, including a student dining facility and performance hall, opens April 2009. Most college facilities are available for rent: 383-7780.

Computer Labs are available to students and district residents.

- 40-station lab in the Library (open to the community)
- 31-station lab in Pioneer Hall
- 20-station lab in Cascade Hall
- Computer/Study Rooms are also available in Redmond, Madras, La Pine and Prineville

Student Housing

Juniper Hall, COCC's on-campus residence hall, houses 102 students. It is operated and managed through COCC's Office of Residence Life. Staff includes a Housing Manager, a full-time, live-in Residence Director who oversees four Resident Assistants (live-in student staff). The 2008-09 room and board package for double occupancy is $7,324.

During the summer, Juniper Hall is rented to groups and conferences. Call (541) 383-7593 for more information.

Programs of Study

COCC offers certificates of completion and five associate degrees: Associate of Applied Science, Associate of Arts, Associate of Science, Associate of Science – Direct Transfer to Oregon State University and Associate of General Studies.

Certificates of completion, which require one to four quarters to complete, prepare students for immediate employment or advancement in various fields. Certificate programs include

- Addictions Studies
- Automotive
- Composites Manufacturing Technology
- Computer and Information Systems
- Culinary
- Dental Assisting
- Dietary Manager
- Drafting
- Forestry
- Geographic Information Systems
- Health Information Technology
- Juvenile Corrections
- Manufacturing Technology
- Massage Therapy
- Medical Assistant
- Medical Transcription
- Nursing
- Office Assistant
- Retail Management
- Wildland Fire

The Associate of Applied Science (AAS) degree trains students in applied career technical skills that prepare the graduate for immediate employment in the field. AAS degree programs include

- Apprenticeship
- Automotive Management
- Aviation
- Business Administration (includes emphasis in five different areas)

Programs of Study, continued

- Computer Information Systems (includes emphasis in three different areas)
- Criminal Justice
- Culinary
- Early Childhood Education
- Emergency Medical Services
- Forestry
- Geographic Information Systems
- Health Information Technology
- Manufacturing Technology
- Massage Therapy
- Nursing
- Structural Fire Science
- Wildland Fire

Associate of Arts (AA) degree programs fit the needs of most students who intend to transfer. The AA degree meets AAOT (Associate of Arts, Oregon Transfer) lower-division general education requirements for all public Oregon universities and some private colleges. AA programs cover subject areas from anthropology to speech, and pre-majors such as pre-medicine, pre-dentistry and pre-veterinary.

The Associate of Science (AS) degree is individualized for transfer to a designated Oregon public university for a specified major, such as business, science, engineering or technology.

Associate of Science – Direct Transfer to Oregon State University – Cascades Campus (AS-DT) degree is designed for students who plan to transfer and receive a degree from Oregon State University – Cascades Campus.

The Associate of General Studies (AGS) degree provides an alternative to pursue a broad, general education and accomplish personal educational goals. It is not transferable as a whole, and does not meet certification requirements for any career and technical area.

High School Options

Central Oregon high school students can earn college credit by participating in any of these COCC programs:

Concurrent Enrollment

Take up to 11 credits through the concurrent enrollment program. Register for classes on the Bend or Redmond campus. To register for classes on the COCC campus, follow the "Getting Started" steps (visit <http://new.cocc.edu/Getting+Started>).

College Now/Transfer and College Now/Tech Prep

Some Central Oregon high schools offer college-level general education as well as career and technical education classes in the high schools, taught by high school instructors exclusively for high school students. Tuition rates are $15/credit for transfer courses and $10/class for career and technical education courses. Contact your high school counselor for information on course options in your high school.

Expanded Options

High school juniors and seniors may have the opportunity to take credit classes at COCC with no charge to them for tuition, fees, supplies and books (transportation to and from COCC not included). Students must sign up no later than March 1 to take advantage of this option for the following school year. Check with high school counselor or ASPIRE coordinator for more information on eligibility requirements.

Middle School Students

Middle school students may take classes at COCC. However, students must meet with the Director of Admissions/Registrar and meet various admission requirements. Contact the COCC Admissions & Records Office for details.

Student Services

CAP Center (Career services, Academic advising and Personal counseling)

The CAP Center provides services to any enrolled COCC student to help them make the most of their time at COCC, and to prepare graduates for family-wage employment.

Info: 383-7200

Academic advising

New, degree-seeking students are assigned an academic adviser during their first term at COCC and meet regularly with their adviser to work on their educational plan, degree requirements, schedule planning, problem solving as well as graduation, transfer and career preparation.

Personal counseling

Counseling assists students who are faced with personal issues that impact their college performance. Services are provided by professional, licensed counselors in a confidential setting at no cost to enrolled students.

Career/Job Placement services

- free career-planning workshops
- credit course in career planning
- Web-based, self-directed career exploration tools
- electronic career placement and temporary jobs bulletin board

Tutoring and Testing Center

Tutoring services are free to COCC students for the COCC courses in which they are currently enrolled. Tutoring is offered on both an individual and a group basis. There are also tutor-led study groups for some key courses. Info: 383-7539

Student Services, continued

The Testing Center's services are available to students and community members needing academic, professional and standardized testing. For a current list of tests offered, visit tutortest.cocc.edu or call 383-7538.

Disability Services

The Disability Services office ensures equal access to COCC campuses and Community Learning Centers for students with qualifying, documented disabilities, as defined by federal legislation. To arrange for specific accommodations, call 383-7583 or visit the office in the Boyle Education Center.

Multicultural Center

The Center, located in Room 108 in Grandview Hall, is open to the public, staffed daily and offers activities and information to foster cross-cultural understanding and communication.

Info: 318-3787 or 383-7412

Native American Program

This program provides Native Americans with individualized help to achieve their educational goals. It is also involved in a variety of campus and community cultural events during the year.

Info: 318-3787 or nativeamerican.cocc.edu

Associated Students of COCC (Student Government)

ASCOCC provides students with numerous opportunities for governance, advocacy and social programming. There are six paid positions each year. Info: 383-7595 or ascocc.cocc.edu.

COCC Foundation

The COCC Foundation is a separate, nonprofit corporation organized in 1955 to assist the College and its students through the development of private resources.

The Foundation provides this assistance by managing a variety of funding vehicles:

- Named endowed scholarships established in memory or honor of a donor
- Planned giving through the Heritage Society
- Raising funds through private and public partnerships

The 2008-09 COCC Foundation Scholarship Program provided more than 441 students financial assistance totaling more than $630,000. A full scholarship for last year was $2,500.
