Introduction

Central Oregon Community College, the oldest two-year college in Oregon, provides comprehensive college services to the residents of its 10,000-square-mile district.

COCC offers two-year associate degrees, transfer/lower division programs, career and technical education degrees and certificates, developmental courses, continuing education and community learning classes, industry-specific training programs, and business management assistance.

Located in the geographic center of Oregon, the College's main campus is located in Bend, a city known for its natural beauty and its proximity to diverse recreational opportunities. The 201-acre campus offers spectacular views.

The Redmond Campus, located 20 miles north on 25 acres near the Redmond Municipal Airport, offers all of the courses necessary to earn an associate degree. The Technology Education Center, opened in 2014, houses general classrooms and computer labs, specialized labs for technology programs and space for the College's Small Business Development Center and entrepreneurial incubation offerings. COCC also has campuses in Madras and Prineville where students have access to a variety of credit and non-credit courses and student services.

OSU-Cascades, Oregon State University's branch campus, serves more than 1,100 students in 18 undergraduate majors, 30 minors and options and four graduate programs. The branch campus will expand to a four-year university beginning fall 2015, and is planning for a new campus near downtown Bend.

Board Members

A seven-member board of directors governs the College, with members of that board elected from geographic zones in its 10,000-square-mile District.

Mission and Vision

Our Mission

Central Oregon Community College promotes student success and community enrichment by providing quality, accessible, lifelong educational opportunities.

Our Vision Statement

To achieve student success and community enrichment, COCC fosters student completion of academic goals, prepares students for employment, assists regional employers and promotes equitable achievement for the diverse students and communities we serve.

Themes

Institutional Sustainability

Students will have the opportunity to be successful because the College has planned and invested appropriately to ensure high quality programs, services and facilities that support student learning and educational achievement.

Transfer and Articulation

Students will have the academic achievement and skills necessary to transfer and articulate successfully to institutions of higher learning beyond the community college level.

Workforce Development

Students will be prepared for employment through the acquisition of knowledge and discipline-specific, employment skills necessary to meet current industry needs.

Themes, continued

Basic Skills

Students will have academic achievements and basic learning skills necessary to participate effectively as engaged community and family members, and employees, and to succeed at the college level.

Lifelong Learning

Lifelong learning provides accessible, noncredit learning opportunities to our community in the areas of Enrichment, Professional Development, Technology and Wellness.

COCC Presidents

Don P. Pence, 1957–1967

(Director, 1952–1957)

Frederick H. Boyle, 1967–1990

Robert L. Barber, 1990–2004

Dr. James E. Middleton, 2004–2014

Dr. Shirley I. Metcalf, 2014–2015

(Interim President)

COCC President

Dr. Shirley I. Metcalf

Dr. Shirley I. Metcalf is COCC's interim president for 2014-15. Metcalf previously served as COCC's Dean of Extended Learning. She took the helm in September as Dr. James Middleton retired with 10 years of service at COCC. She will serve until a new president is hired, likely in July 2015.

Dr. Shirley I. Metcalf

Metcalf has been at COCC for three years, overseeing the college's non-credit instruction and the COCC campuses in Redmond, Madras and Prineville. In 2013, from February through June, she served as interim vice president for instruction prior to the hiring of Dr. Charles Abasa-Nyarko.

Prior to coming to COCC, she held the positions of executive vice president for instruction and vice president for advancement at Lake Washington Technical College. At Hawaii Community College she served as dean of instruction (chief academic officer) and dean of outreach. Metcalf attained the rank of full professor in business and held a tenured position with the University of Hawaii System for 26 years. She earned her bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Hawaii and her doctorate in education from Northern Illinois University.

In November, she was named by the University of Hawaii Community College System to the list of "50 Finest" as one of the 50 individuals "who have significantly contributed to the growth and innovation of the community colleges" in the state of Hawaii.

COCC History

- 1949 COCC opens with four part-time faculty members conducting classes for 109 students during the evenings in the basement of Bend High School.
- 1954 On the fifth anniversary, the students recommend changing the name to Central Oregon College.
- 1955 College Foundation is formed.
- 1957 Don Pence is appointed the College's first president.
- 1962 Central Oregonians approve the 10,000-square-mile College District and later elect the first District board.
- 1962 R.L. and Joyce Coats donate 140 acres on the west side of Awbrey Butte for the new campus.
- 1964 Nearly 700 students and 35 full-time faculty members begin classes at the new campus.
- 1966 COCC is accredited and a new 16,000-square-foot library opens.
- 1967 After Dr. Pence resigns, Dr. Frederick Boyle is named president. The college becomes Central Oregon Community College.
- 1971 Ponderosa Hall, a vocational-technical center, and Mazama Gymnasium open.
- 1982 The Pinckney Center for the Arts, named for instructor and administrator, Orde Pinckney, is formally dedicated.
- 1984 The Small Business Development Center opens.
- 1990 The Central Oregon Consortium for Higher Education (COCHE) begins offering selected four-year degrees through Oregon colleges and universities on the COCC campus.

- 1990 Dr. Robert Barber is selected as the third president in the College's history.
- 1994 The University Center opens, replacing COCHE.
- 1997 Redmond Campus opens.
- 1998 New 72,500-square-foot library opens. Original library converted to classrooms.
- 2001 The State Board of Higher Education selects Oregon State University to serve as the managing partner of the state's first branch campus. OSU-Cascades Campus opens. Manufacturing and Technology Center opens at the Redmond Campus.
- 2004 Dr. James Middleton becomes the fourth president in the College's history.
- 2009 The Campus Center, including performance venue Wille Hall, opens in April. COCC receives voter approval for a $41.58-million bond measure to build five new facilities, ensuring eligibility for an additional $11.47 million in state funding.
- 2011 Building construction is completed for campuses in Prineville and Madras as well as the Jungers Culinary Center.
- 2012 COCC opens new state-of-the-art Health Careers and Science Centers on the Bend Campus including labs for programs in nursing, dental assisting, medical assisting, massage therapy, pharmacy technician, veterinary technician, biology, chemistry, geology and physics.
- 2014 Dr. Middleton retires and, following a failed search, Dr. Shirley I. Metcalf is named interim president. The Redmond Technology Education Center opens on the Redmond campus.

Facilities

The 201-acre main campus in Bend includes 25 buildings, incorporating 587,830 square feet. The 25-acre Redmond Campus encompasses four buildings, incorporating 88,299 square feet, including the Manufacturing and Applied Technology Center and the Redmond Technology Education Center. The 38,000-square-foot Cascades Hall on the Bend campus opened in fall 2002. A 30,000-square-foot Campus Center, including a student dining facility and symphony practice hall, opened in August of 2009. Most College facilities are available for rent: 541.383.7780.

New Building Construction

Voters in the COCC District approved a bond measure in November 2009 for $41.58 million for construction, and the state of Oregon made available another $11.47 million for building projects. Buildings in Madras and Prineville were completed in fall 2011 and allow residents in Jefferson and Crook counties to have easier access to services and classes.

The Health Careers and Science Centers were completed for fall 2012. The Health Careers Center houses the College's nursing, dental assisting, medical assisting, massage therapy, pharmacy technician and veterinary technician programs and provides modern lab spaces for these critical areas; the Science Center adds labs, classrooms, faculty offices and other student learning spaces. The Redmond Technology Education Center opened on the COCC Redmond Campus in fall 2014.

The Jungers Culinary Center opened for culinary classes in fall 2011. The state-of-the-art facility has three kitchens, a demonstration theater and a 60-seat dining lab. Funds for this project were provided through the COCC Foundation's capital campaign, a state grant and money from the COCC Capital Project Fund.

COCC's new residence hall will be completed in summer 2015. (see page 19 for more information.)

Computer Labs

Computer Labs are available to students and District residents.

- 37-station lab in the Barber Library
- 23-station lab in the Boyle Education Center
- 31-station lab in Pioneer Hall
(student use only)
- 29-station lab in Cascades Hall (lab available to OSU and dual-admit students only)
- 21-station drop-in lab at the Redmond Campus, Building 3
- 30-station drop-in lab at the Redmond Technology Education Center
- 28-station drop-in lab/classroom at the Madras campus
- 58 public computer stations at the Prineville campus

Student Housing

Beginning fall 2015, COCC's new residence hall will open and house 330 COCC and OSU-Cascade students. On-campus housing is operated and managed through COCC's Housing and Residence Life Office. The 2014-15 room and board package for double occupancy is $9,000.

During the summer, the residence hall is rented to groups and conferences.

Call 541.383.7588 for more information.

Barber Library

The 72,500-square-foot Robert L. Barber Library is named for a former COCC president (1990-2004). It features wireless Internet access, public-access workstations, computer lab and a computer classroom. Students may check out laptops, ipads, digital cameras and other technology. There are other student services available in the library such as career advising and placement along with testing/tutoring.

Info: 541.383.7560 or cocc.edu/Library

Barber Library features:

- Hundreds of thousands of full text research articles from scholarly electronic resources and databases—accessible via remote login 24/7 to all enrolled students.
- Access to more than 25 million items including e-books via the Orbis Cascades Alliance, a consortium of 37 Northwest academic libraries.
- Electronic document delivery available for items not held at COCC or Alliance.
- DVD and streaming video collections.
- Group study rooms.
- In-house gallery featuring local and juried art exhibits.
- Credit library courses and research support.
- Chat reference and research services.

Redmond Campus

A full range of educational opportunities are available at the COCC Redmond Campus, located across from the Redmond Airport:

- Credit classes leading to a transfer degree
- Foundational credit classes for most degrees and certificates
- Academic advising, placement testing, career and job search services, proctored exams, tutoring and financial aid information
- Small business advising
- Customized business training
- GED, basic skills and English language learning
- Dual credit—earn high school & college credits
- Self-enrichment classes

COCC's Manufacturing and Applied Technology Center (MATC)

Is a multi-industry training facility where students can learn technical skills at their own pace and on their own schedule with the help of the skilled and experienced staff. The center specializes in skill development for individuals seeking employment in manufacturing.

Redmond Technology Education Center

The Redmond Technology Education Center

The 34,000 square feet, two-story center opened fall 2014. It houses the Center for Entrepreneurial Excellence Development (CEED), the Non-Destructive Testing and Inspection (NDTI) and a two-year degree option in Automotive Technology in Electronics and Diagnostics (TED). The Small Business Development Center (SBDC) also has a presence in the building.

This Center has nine classrooms, three computer labs (one MAC), four skill labs and several conference rooms.

For information about the Redmond Campus, call 541-504-2900.

Madras Campus

The Madras Campus is a 10,000-square-foot facility that includes classrooms, a computer lab, a large community room and offices for faculty and administration. The campus is built on land donated to COCC by the Bean Foundation. Funding for the facility came primarily from the successful 2009 COCC bond measure, with additional money coming from Jefferson County and a U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) grant. COCC offers a variety of credit and noncredit classes and comprehensive student services that include:

- Credit classes leading to an AAOT degree
- Foundational credit classes for most degrees and certificates
- Academic advising, placement testing, proctored exams, tutoring and financial aid information
- Small business advising
- Customized business training
- GED, basic skills and English language learning
- Dual credit — earn high school and college credits
- Self-enrichment classes

Prineville Campus

The COCC Crook County Open Campus in Prineville is a collaborative partnership between Crook County, COCC and OSU Open Campus-

Facilities, continued

Crook County. This 12,000-square-foot facility includes seven flexible meeting rooms and classrooms and offers 72 computer stations with high-speed Internet access in the building and mobile computer lab. The campus was funded by a grant awarded to Crook County by the U.S. Department of Commerce Broadband Technology Opportunity Program, proceeds from the voter-approved 2009 COCC bond measure, and support from local contributions and other nonprofit organizations. The campus sits on land donated by Crook County. The partnership offers community college, university and OSU Extension Services courses and programs, workforce training, continuing education and community learning opportunities.

Adult Basic Skills

Through Adult Basic Skills, students can study to improve skills that will lead them to college credit programs, the GED Exam and work. Basic reading, writing and math classes are offered in Bend, Redmond, Prineville, Madras and Warm Springs. English Language Learning (ELL) classes are offered in Bend, Redmond and Madras. Through the ABS programs last year, a total of 764 students were served.

The ABS office is located at the Bend Campus. For information, call 541.504.2950.

Programs of Study

COCC offers certificates of completion and four associate degrees: Associate of Applied Science, Associate of Arts, Associate of Science and Associate of General Studies.

Certificates of completion, which require one to four quarters to complete, prepare students for immediate employment or advancement in various fields. Certificate programs include:

- Accounting
- Addictions Studies
- Apprenticeship
- Automotive Technology
- Computer and Information Systems
- Computer Aided Drafting (CAD)
- Criminal Justice
- Culinary Arts
- Dental Assisting
- Dietary Manager
- Drafting
- Early Childhood Education
- Entrepreneurship
- Forestry
- Geographic Information Systems
- Health Information Technology
- Juvenile Corrections
- Kitchen Prep
- Manufacturing Technology
- Marketing
- Massage Therapy
- Medical Assistant
- Nursing
- Office Assistant
- Pharmacy Technician
- Retail Management
- Wildland Fire

The Associate of Applied Science (AAS) degree trains students in applied career technical skills that prepare the graduate for immediate employment in the field. AAS degree programs include:

- Addictions Studies
- Apprenticeship
- Automotive Management
- Aviation
- Business Administration
- Computer Information Systems
- Criminal Justice
- Culinary
- Early Childhood Education
- Emergency Medical Services
- Forestry Resources Technology
- Geographic Information Systems
- Health Information Technology
- Manufacturing Technology
- Massage Therapy
- Nursing
- Structural Fire Science
- Veterinary Technician
- Wildland Fire

Associate of Arts (AA) degree programs fit the needs of most students who intend to transfer. The AA degree meets AAOT (Associate of Arts, Oregon Transfer) lower-division general education requirements for all public Oregon universities and some private colleges. AA programs cover subject areas from anthropology to speech, and pre-majors such as pre-medicine, pre-dentistry and pre-veterinary.

The Associate of Science (AS) degree is individualized for transfer to a designated four-year college or university for a specified major, such as business, science, engineering or technology.

The Associate of General Studies (AGS) degree provides an alternative to pursue a broad, general education and accomplish personal educational goals. It is not transferable as a whole, and does not meet certification requirements for any career and technical area.

High School Options

Central Oregon high school students can earn college credit by participating in any of these COCC programs:

Concurrent Enrollment

To register for classes on the COCC campus, follow the "Getting Started" steps (cocc.edu/Future-Students).

Dual Credit

Some Central Oregon high schools offer college-level general education as well as career and technical education classes in the high schools, taught by high school instructors exclusively for high school students. Tuition rates are $15/credit. Contact your high school counselor for information on course options in your high school.

Expanded Options

High school juniors and seniors have the opportunity to take credit classes at COCC with no charge to them for tuition, fees, supplies and books (transportation to and from COCC not included). Check with high school counselor or ASPIRE coordinator for more information on eligibility requirements.

Advanced Diploma

Available at some Central Oregon high schools, this program allows students who have completed their school's graduation requirements for a standard diploma to take college classes at a COCC campus. Full tuition, fees and books are paid by the high school. Process of purchasing books varies by school district. Students should contact their high school counselor to determine if they are eligible for this program and to find out complete program details.

Disability Services

COCC strives to make available, to all students, the opportunity for an excellent and rewarding education. The Services for Students With Disabilities office endeavors to ensure equal access to all students with qualifying, documented disabilities at all COCC campuses, as guided by federal legislation. Awareness of students' needs and goals helps create an atmosphere in which learning and growth can occur. We encourage referral of students by staff and faculty to the SSD office for consultation and determination of eligibility. Please contact our office in Boyle Education Center by calling 541.383.7583.

Multicultural Activities

The office of Multicultural Activities serves the campus by promoting the implementation of our principles of community, providing educational opportunities for students and employees, planning cultural events and activities, and advocating for students from underrepresented and underserved groups. Working together with the campus Diversity Committee, this office works to implement the goals and outcomes of the campus diversity plan.

Continuing Education

Community, Business and Professional Education

Central Oregon Community College's Continuing Education division provides skill-specific noncredit programs and services throughout the District. With a composite of services, COCC is able to efficiently offer expanded opportunities for noncredit instruction appropriate to businesses, professionals and individuals.

Small Business Development Center

COCC's Small Business Development Center (SBDC) supports business vitality through no-cost, one-on-one, confidential business counseling, a yearlong Small Business Management program and practical, hands-on workshops. The SBDC continues to exceed goals in providing these business support services throughout the College District. Small Business Development Center services are available to anyone who owns or operates—or is considering starting—a small business. The businesses comprise a complete spectrum of business stages, from start-up to mature companies. For information, call 541.383.7290.

Customized Training

Central Oregon Community College creates, coordinates and delivers quality, customized employee training to public and private sector businesses. The training is high quality, cost effective and results oriented. COCC works with businesses on computer skills, supervisory and leadership training, Spanish in the workplace and specific trainings designed to fit industry needs.

Community Learning

Explore the possibilities with hundreds of noncredit classes for adults. Lifelong learning is based on the belief that people are learners at every age and are entitled to pursue educational opportunities meaningful to them.

COCC offers hundreds of noncredit classes through Community Learning. Students may develop skills and new interests through enrichment classes such as photography and cooking; get into shape with yoga and other fitness classes; enhance job skills or even develop a new career.

For more information about Continuing Education, call 541.383.7270 or visit online, cocc.edu/ContinuingEd.

COCC Foundation

The COCC Foundation is a separate, nonprofit corporation organized in 1955 to assist the College, its students and faculty through the development of private resources.

The Foundation provides this assistance by managing a variety of funding vehicles:

- Named endowed scholarships established in memory or honor of a donor
- Planned giving through the Heritage Society
- Raising funds through private and public partnerships

In 2013-2014, the Central Oregon Community College Foundation awarded more than $1 million in scholarships. A full scholarship in 2013-2014 was $3,400. Out of 800 first time Foundation Scholarship applicants, 200 students were awarded scholarships. One hundred students received renewal scholarships.
